Summer Grilling Tips from the Stingray Grill's Chef Jake

Summer is here, and it is the perfect time to fire up the grill! Chef Jake Olson from the Stingray Grill is sharing his top five summer grilling tips to help you take your backyard BBQ to the next level.

Start with a Hot Grill

A properly preheated grill (around 400–450°F for high heat) ensures a great sear and helps prevent food from sticking. Let it heat up for at least 10–15 minutes before adding anything to the grates.

Season Boldly

Salt and pepper are classics, but don't be afraid to experiment. Try a dry rub with smoked paprika, garlic powder, and cayenne for a kick—or brush meats with a marinade an hour before grilling for deep, rich flavor.

Do not forget the Veggies

Grilled vegetables bring smoky sweetness to any meal. Toss zucchini, bell peppers, or corn in olive oil, salt, and pepper, then grill until lightly charred. Pro tip: A squeeze of fresh lemon at the end makes all the difference!

Let It Rest

Resist the urge to cut into your steak or chicken right away! Letting meat rest for 5–10 minutes after grilling helps redistribute juices, keeping every bite tender and flavorful.
